

C.N. TRUSTEES EMPLOY TWO NEW TEACHERS

Council Refuses To Open Treasury Branch Acct.

Bill From Dr. Rose Thrown Out; E. Rear's Residence Given Water Service

Regular meeting of the council held on Tuesday evening. Present Mayor Antroub, Councillors Abousafy, Atkinson, Balloch, Ford, Jenkins and Kerr.

The matter of light and water services to Morgan McGrath was placed in the hands of the Light and Water committee.

Mr. Dancy, of the Government Treasury branch at Blairmore, was present to explain the advantages to the town in opening an account at the treasury branch and accepting vouchers in payment of taxes. He stated it would help relieve those merchants with a high voucher deposit at his bank to pay their taxes with vouchers and so relieve that congestion. After lengthy debate the motion to open an account at the Treasury Branch was defeated 4-2.

Alfred Phillips, sr., asked that the taxes on his home be written off. It was agreed to write off current taxes only.

A $100 cheque will be sent to the Department of Lands and Mines in payment of year's rental lease of the recreational grounds at Crows Nest Lake.

A bill was received from Dr. Rose for professional services rendered to a transient and dope addict a few months ago. This bill with an account for services rendered had previously been sent to the Attorney General's Department at Edmonton. The Department had paid the doctor for the cost of the bill by Dr. Rose. The man, Frank Mills, was both a transient and dope addict. He had been picked up by Constable Antle and placed in the cell. While in there he cut his arm open with a razor blade necessitating medical attention. The doctor's bill was the result. Furthermore in order to keep Mills quiet a shot of morphine had been given him, which Dr. Rose also asked payment for. Council was of the opinion it was not responsible for transients and the bill was refused payment.

The penalty to tax arrears was tabled until next month. Council will henceforth supply material to Coleman Light and Water employees so that they may replace any hardware destroyed by the digging of ditches.

The residence of E. Rear on the Flats will be serviced with water. A motion was passed to authorize Coleman Light and Water company to lay the necessary pipes, digging of ditches and laying of pipes to cost $225.00.

Chick Roughead Reached Eight in Net Tournament

Chick Roughead carried Coleman's tennis colors into the eighth in the Alberta net tournament held in Calgary last week. According to a conversation with The Journal he led his opponent "Shorts" Purcell, of Edmonton, 5-2, 40-love, in the second set when the referee started to make a general mess of calling decisions. It is reported that twice in that game two decisions were given against Chick, and when the referee was questioned he blantly stated that he was too far ahead anyway. In face of this he deliberately threw the game and set out for home. Twice in the last set Chick had the referees changed, but to no avail.

AWARDED VIOLIN SCHOLARSHIP

Frank Hoesk, A.T.C.M., 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoesk, of Bellevue, was awarded on Tuesday, the Toronto Conservatory of Music violin scholarship for 1940. It is one of four awards openly competed for throughout the Dominion.

Frank is a former pupil of Walter Moser, of Hillcrest, and two years ago won a scholarship entitling him to free tuition at the Royal Academy of Music at London, England. He had his passage booked when war intervened and ten months ago went to Toronto where he has been attending the Conservatory of Music.

He has brought to the Pass an oblique of which music lovers are justly proud.

Cow Question Aired At Council Meeting

Claim Youngsters Chasing Cows Into Town Limits; Four Persons Fined Tuesday Morning.

The question of cows roaming at large in the town area was brought before the council at its meeting on Tuesday evening. Present was Jack Poxton with complaint. He stated that while he was on the roof of his barn on Monday he saw two youngsters chase his cows from the flats outside the town limits into the town, where they were promptly taken in charge by town foreman John Nikituk, who impounded them. According to Mr. Poxton he was unable to run and overtake the youngsters or the cows before the latter were impounded. Four cow owners came before Fred Antroub, J.P., on Tuesday morning and were fined $1.00 and costs for allowing their cows to roam at large.

At the demand of the council that he bear down on horses and cows roaming at large in the town area, Constable Antle and especially Foreman John Nikituk have been impounding every cow and horse roaming the streets. They were given a verbal put on the back by the council and told to continue the good work. Regarding Mr. Poxton's fine, council stated that a matter of this nature was beyond their province and that they could not interfere. Should Mr. Poxton in the future see youngsters driving cows into the town area for the purpose of impounding them he was to report same immediately to Constable Antle.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Large and son Barry, spent the early part of the week with Mrs. Large's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Chapman, of Blairmore. —Crabrook Courier.

CARD OF THANKS

For the many expressions of sympathy, flowers and acts of kindness shown in our recent bereavement, we desire to extend thanks and appreciation.

Pucksters And Galt Miners Split Baseball Series

Pucksters Win First Game 6-3; Miners Win Nightcap 12-8; Good Crowds Attend.

Two of the best ball clubs in the province pitted their skill against each other at the local ball field on Sunday afternoon when Pucksters played hosts to Lethbridge Galt Miners. In the first of a two-game series Pucksters emerged victorious with a 6-3 decision, Marconi pitching good ball to keep the Miners well in check. In the second game Miners came through with a barrage of hits to win handily 12-8, Lewis being the winning pitcher.

In the first game Lethbridge drew first blood with a 3-run rally in the third inning. Marconi lost control, allowing a man to get on base through being hit and let Miners connect for two hits which netted three runs. Coleman also scored in this inning when "Contact" Kanik hit for two bases, romping home on a hit by a team mate. It was in the fifth when Miners collapsed before the hitting onslaught of the locals. Three men on the first four to come to bat hit for two bases, Kanik getting his second successful two-base hit. Chervinski failed to find a solution to stop the Pucksters and flied the bases. Johnny Elick came to bat and amid the encouragement from the fans hit a mighty swat to clean the bases and get to third base on the play. He ultimately got home on a hit from a team mate. Five runs were scored on five hits and that was all that was required for Pucksters to win the game. Marconi held the visitors scoreless for the remaining two innings.

Battery for Miners was Chervinski and Witwrecki, for Coleman, Marconi and Gate.

In the second game it was the Miners' big guns that sounded out their boom of destruction. In the second inning Martin was shelled from the mound with three runs in and only one man out. Schlusser went in to relieve and he allowed three other runs before managing to secure the side. Schlusser had another bad inning in the sixth when Miners again went scoring wild, this time scoring five runs. Miners led 12-1 at the end of the sixth, each team having scored one run in the fifth. It was only in the seventh inning when Coleman actually came into the picture, and then with a vengeance. They lambasted everything Lewis hurled their way and as a result they trod a path around the bases as seven runs were scored before he managed to put three men out. Coleman had shot their bolt, however and never threatened after that although Giacomuzzi held his opponents scoreless after the disastrous sixth inning. Final score 12-8.

Battery for Miners, Lewis and Toccoli, and for Pucksters, Martin, Schlusser, Giacomuzzi and Gate.

PUCKSTERS AND WRENTHAM T OPLAY IN PROVINCIAL BALL PLAY-OFFS

Arrangements Not Yet Complete; Will Be a Best Three-Of Five Games Series.

Coleman Pucksters and Wrentham have been drawn to oppose each other in the first round of the provincial intermediate baseball play-offs. Arrangements were not completed on Wednesday morning as to where the series will start. The team starting the series at its home grounds will play the first two games, the series then being played in its entirety at the home grounds of the second team. Should the games be scheduled for Coleman next Sunday posters will be displayed throughout the Pass giving the times.

Household Economics And General Shop Work Teachers Appointed; Salaries $1400 And Expenses

A joint meeting of the Trustees of Coleman and Blairmore school was held in Blairmore on Wednesday, July 25, Trustee A. Boetti presiding.

The purpose of the meeting was to employ a Household Economics teacher for Coleman and Blairmore schools. Advertisements had been placed in the Lethbridge and Calgary papers and seventeen applications had been received. Of the seventeen applications that of Miss Jean Parker, of Carlsbad, Alberta, seemed the most attractive.

She is a 1938 graduate of McDonald Institute, Guelph, Ont., the winner of the Student Council scholarship and also winner of the silver cup senior cooking class. Last year she taught household economics at High River and district schools.

Her salary was placed at $1400 and expenses. She will teach three days a week at Coleman and two days a week at Blairmore. Coleman will bear three-fifths of the expense and Blairmore two-fifths. The provincial government gives a grant of 50% towards both salary and equipment.

A few weeks ago the Trust trustees appointed Frank Turner, of Bellevue, as general shop teacher. He had been teaching the pupils at various times and helped several evenings at Coleman when the local school first launched into shop work. His salary was placed at $1400 and expenses, Coleman and Blairmore contributing towards the salary and expenses in the same ratio as in the case of Miss Park.

The government also gives a 50% grant towards the salary and equipment. Both will start their duties on the commencement of the school term.

Vandalism Rampant In West Coleman

Eleven Windows Broken In Cameron School In Two Weeks.

Vandalism has been running rampant in West Coleman during the past few weeks. The brunt of this destruction is at Cameron School, where eleven panes of glass have been broken. Seven panes were broken two weeks ago and four more were smashed last Friday.

The only clue has been large boulders lying on the floor when janitor Frank Patterson reported for duty in the mornings.

The trustees are really angry at this vandalism and are taking steps to curb the destructive force of these young hoodlums. Chairman Fraser is most anxious to get information concerning the culprits and will even give a reward. In addressing the parents he asks that they keep a watchful eye on their children and make sure it is not they who are the guilty parties. Court action will be taken when the guilty persons are found, as there is altogether too much damage done to the school and a halt must be called.

Any person knowing who the guilty persons are is asked to inform Chairman Fraser, or any of the following trustees: P. Sharp, N. Fleming, J. Lloyd or J. Janosak, at once. The information will be appreciated.

Red Cross Workers Asked to Send in Finished Goods

The work committee of the local Red Cross wish to make a shipment to headquarters next Tuesday. It would be appreciated if those having work finished by that date would turn it in either to the person who gave out the wool or to the Red Cross rooms.

Anyone desiring knitting may have wool delivered to them by notifying any member of the committee or by calling at the work rooms at the council chamber on Tuesday afternoons.

Renewal of subscriptions to The Journal is acknowledged from one of Coleman's former old-timers, Mr. E. B. Boush. He has now been a resident of Calgary for some years but still takes a keen interest in the community life of Coleman and follows the doings of his old friends as recorded each week in the Journal.

Reports Indicate The Harvest In Europe Will Be Disappointing

London.—Europe is beginning its wartime harvest but reports reaching London from various sources indicate that it will be a disappointing one and that famine is following in the wake of Hitler's hordes.

Even in normal times Europe is unable to feed itself. Now it must encounter the British blockade.

No one is able to estimate the number of animals and crops destroyed in Hitler's early-summer blitzkrieg, but there is no doubt that the number is large.

Broadcasts in German-occupied territories contain almost daily indications of economic hardships. The announcer of one Nazi-controlled Netherlands station said that, owing to a scarcity of fodder, the number of poultry must be reduced to 8,000, 600 before Sept. 15. This is approximately a third the normal number. Another announcer told housewives to save fuel and soap by washing utensils in hot water only once daily. The situation in Poland is believed desperate due to the failure of the halved pea crop, which is a great staple food of that country. This shortage necessitated a sharp decrease in the number of livestock.

Sent To Unoccupied Zone

Nazis Release Prisoners In France To Save Food

Berne, Switzerland.—The German army of occupation in France, said to be hard pressed for food supplies in the conquered area, was reported to have released hundreds of thousands of French prisoners and sent them to the unoccupied zone rather than assume the obligation of feeding them.

Travellers reaching Switzerland said the Germans were herding the disarmed soldiers into the unoccupied area irrespective of whether they lived there or in the northern occupied section.

U.S. Conscription Program

460,000 Conscripts To Start Training Soon

Washington.—Registration under the pending United States conscription program has been set tentatively for Sept. 1, it was learned, with the first 400,000 conscripts expected to start training a month later.

Although congress has yet to act on the necessary legislation, a war department official disclosed that agencies in the 48 states already have begun preparations for the selective service plan. The initial trainees probably will be chosen from men between 21 and 31 years old.

Soldiers' Vote Not Taken
Ottawa.—Vote of the soldiers on active service will not be taken in the four by-elections to be held Aug. 19, Air Minister Power told the House of Commons. Electoral officials were of the opinion it would be "utterly impracticable" to set up the complicated machinery necessary to take the vote of men in England, Iceland, Greenland and scattered all over Canada, Mr. Power said.

Aids To Air Navigation
Ottawa.—Five new radio range stations have recently been commissioned and are being placed in operation on the Trans-Canada Air Lines. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of munitions and supply announced. These new aids to air navigation have been opened at London, Windsor, Ont., Fort William, Charlottetown and Dartmouth, N.S.

Roumanian Oil In Increasing Quantities Going To Germany

Bucharest.—Rumania tightened her grip on British and French oil properties in the rich Rumanian fields, by ordering expulsion of 12 French oil executives and promised increased deliveries for Germany's war machine.

The government order came amid reports that at least 22 oil company executives would be expelled, including additional Britons. Earlier this month 30 British oilmen and their families were ousted and Rumania seized the country's largest oil enterprise, the $15,000,000 Astra-Romana Company, and took over its vast supplies of British produced oil.

The government action followed German claims that Allied documents had been found which disclosed a plot to sabotage the Rumanian oil industry rather than permit oil from this source to reach Germany.

The French group includes officials of the Colombia and Concordia corporations which produce 18 per cent. of Rumania's total oil output.

Protecting Airdrome

Canadian Troops In England Are Placed On Guard

London.—Somewhere in England several hundred Canadian troops guard an airdrome that is home to one of the Royal Canadian Air Force squadrons now in England.

The battle-thirsty Canadians are a cog in a broad scheme worked out for defence of the airports that dot this embattled island. Officials are mindful of the way German paratroopers and troops borne in mammoth transport planes swooped on airports in Norway and Holland during the invasion of those countries.

At Gen. A. L. McNaughton spelled off a strong formation from Canadian active service reserve units to guard and defend the drome on which the army co-operation squadron under Squadron-Leader W. D. Van Vleet, Winnipeg, is poised for action. Major C. Matthews, Sterling, Ont., commands the force, which is composed of men representing every combat unit in the Canadian 1st Division.

Aided by civilian labor, the troops constructed blockhouses, earthworks and other fortifications around the field. Behind thick walls sentries stand to avoid the clock, ready to bring their automatic arms into play and to flash the alarm if invaders attempt to storm the airdrome.

Such a warning signal would bring into action strong reinforcements from C.A.S.F. combat units encamped only a few miles away.

B.C. Lumber Exports

Shipments To The United Kingdom Are Increased

Vancouver.—The shortage of ships available for British Columbia lumber exports, now overcome, is reflected by official figures of waterborne lumber exports from the province for the first six months of 1940, released here by the Pacific lumber inspection bureau.

Lumber exporters here announced that "a sufficiency" of ships had been made available for lumber shipments from here.

Total British Columbia foreign exports for the six months ended June 30 was 738,000,000 feet, compared with 688,000,000 in the last six months of 1939, and 597,000,000 in the first six months of last year. Shipments to the United Kingdom in the six months just ended were 447,000,000 feet, comparing favorably with 429,000,000 in the same period for 1939, but below the 541,000,000 total in the last six months of 1939.

Reports circulated that the government would requisition 60 British barges to augment the Danube river fleet for deliveries to the Reich.

Official quarters promised to make every effort to deliver 200,000 tons this month.

Meanwhile, Rumania's Iron Guard handed King Carol a memorandum expressing uncompromising opposition to any territorial concessions to Hungary and Bulgaria at a conference of Rumanian and German officials at Salzburg.

The Iron Guard said the Rumanian people would fight rather than surrender any part of Transylvania to Hungary or southern Dobruja to Bulgaria.

The Iron Guardist, though supported and harbored by German Nazis during more than a year of blood purge against them by the former Rumanian government, are the most national group in this newly Nazified country.

New Wheat Policy

Suggestion Made That Advances Be Given To Farmers

Ottawa.—John H. Wesson of Regina, president of the Saskatchewan wheat pool, in a statement endorsed many provisions of the government's new wheat policy but suggested three changes.

They follow:
1. Provision for farmers to obtain financial assistance during the time they are unable to deliver wheat because of lack of public storage space.

2. A fixed price of $1.25 for wheat to be ground into flour for domestic consumption instead of the 15 cents a bushel processing tax.

3. Closing of the Winnipeg futures market.

"There appears to be no provision for financing money for wheat, which must remain on the farm," said Mr. Wesson. "It is imperative that some provision be made. If only one-third of the crop is moved on an equitable basis in the fall with the ruinous low prices of wheat, it means only hardship for the wheat grower if advances are not made, but it will make it impossible for municipalities to take care of existing social services and to some extent paralyze the whole economic structure."

"The 15-cent processing tax to be charged on all wheat manufactured into flour consumed in Canada is merely a gesture, although a step in the right direction. The pools believe there ought to be a domestic price for wheat of at least $1.25 a bushel. An advance of 52 cents a bushel increases the price of bread one cent a loaf. The $1.25 figure is close to what is known as the parity price level of the goods the producer has to purchase."

"The statement the Winnipeg futures market is to remain open is not at all satisfactory to the wheat producers of western Canada. There is virtually only one buyer of Canadian wheat to-day. It is the wheat purchasing commission in Great Britain. There should be but one seller, the Canadian wheat board."

Mr. Wesson said he heartily endorsed the government's decision to pay farmers for storing grain on the farm and removal of the limit of 5,000 bushels of wheat that farmers could deliver to the wheat board.

Permits For Firearms
Tourists And Visitors May Receive Consideration
Ottawa.—Bona fide tourists and visitors from Allied and neutral nations and residents of Canada may be given permission to carry firearms in Canada if authorized by Commissioner S. T. Wood of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Under the terms of an order-in-council published in an extra edition of the Canada Gazette, the commissioner is given the power "to make orders for the exemption of residents, bona fide tourists and visitors from neutral or Allied countries, from the provisions of regulations 37a of the Defence of Canada regulations regarding the possession of firearms."

Commissioner Wood also is given authority to make such provisions for licenses or permits for such persons "as may appear to be expedient."

Army Huts

Change To Be Made For Housing Men At Training Centres

Ottawa.—All members of the Canadian Active Service Force in training in Canada will be housed at their training centres in permanent army huts by the end of the month, it was stated at defence headquarters.

Up to now a large proportion of the force has been under canvas and the change is being made possible by a hurry-up job of hut-building by the engineering service which will have completed 802 huts during July with accommodation for 36,732 soldiers. These huts added to those previously built will be sufficient to house the entire force.

The huts are large substantial buildings, generally 120 feet long and 24 feet wide and 17 feet high to the top of the pitched roof.

It takes 1,000,000 feet of lumber to build huts sufficient to house a battalion of 1,600 of all ranks. To provide accommodation for 36,732 exclusive of kitchens, will use up during this month somewhat more than 30,000,000 feet of lumber.

"We are coming the country for suitable lumber," said an official. "We shall have to transport considerable from British Columbia when we start a later program to provide winter quarters for the active militia."

As a result of the order of June 28, the following huts will be completed this month: Camp Borden, Ont., 349 accommodating 16,184; Petawawa, Ont., 165 accommodating 7,072; Valcarlos, Que., 148 accommodating 6,120; Shilo, Man., 108 accommodating 4,760; Dundurn, Sask., 32 accommodating 1,600.

Force Is Increased

1,500 Special Officers Join R.C.M.P. Since Beginning Of War

Ottawa.—In addition to 500 new uniformed men being added to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, that force has been expanded by 1,500 special officers since the beginning of the war, Acting Justice Minister Cardin said.

The force itself was being increased from 2,450 to 2,950. The special officers were being used in railway guard duties and elsewhere.

These did not include a company of R.C.M.P. just recruited which is training at Regina for overseas and which will join the force on its return.

Discussion arose previous to passing an act amending the R.C.M.P. act in several minor respects.

The familiar figure of the scarlet-coated mountie will be seen less frequently in advertising after this.

Before any commercial use is made advertising of trade marks of the likeness of a Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer now, consent of the commissioner must be obtained and Acting Justice Minister Cardin indicated that consent would be hard to get.

"We want to stop that kind of advertising entirely," he said.

Insurance Bill

Little Change Is Made In The Unemployment Measure

Ottawa.—The special committee of the commons on unemployment insurance, after hearing representations from industrialists, financiers and labor, returned the government's unemployment insurance bill to the house without serious change.

The committee amended the original bill to provide that there should be no duplication of unemployment insurance in the case of railway workers whose jobs took them back and forth across the United States border. It also provided that in the cases of such workers, negotiations might be entered into between the governments of the two countries to make such adjustments as were necessary to bring about an equitable state of affairs.

The committee made provision for payments to members of the advisory committee established by the bill at such rates as should be approved by the governor-in-council.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

A NEWS report from Ottawa states more Alberta coal will be used in Eastern Canada, as a result of the National Defence Department's action in altering fuel specifications and so making special provision for western coal. Upwards of 10,000 tons of western domestic coal for Camp Borden, Toronto and Kingston will be required, and an additional 10,000 tons will be required for the winter. The amount is not large, particularly in comparing it with the vast imports of American coal. In fact it would not amount to a week's capacity output of any single mine of the larger companies operating in Alberta. But it is something and may lead to a much greater increase of the use of western coal in eastern Canada.

Western mine companies for years have maintained a campaign to develop eastern markets for Alberta coal, and the Federal and provincial governments have assisted by way of subventions, which in effect was protection for the coal industry, and against which certain eastern interests protested. It has been claimed that the Dominion as a whole would benefit from the greater use of Canadian coal instead of importing millions of dollars' worth from the United States. However, the great handicap is the long haul from Alberta to Ontario compared to a much shorter and more economical haul from United States coalfields. The principal reason that a boost has been given to the use of Canadian coal is the adverse exchange rate on Canadian funds. It is not because of a real desire to help the western coal industry, as we see it, otherwise action would have been taken long before this. It is a condition arising from the war and if it will help to further increase the use of western coal, they might well the old saying be re-echoed: "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good."

GRADUALLY the cost of living rises, though almost imperceptibly. Employment has increased and the number of wage-earners at work establishes a new record for Canada. In April 1939, 473,000 wage earners were unemployed; and in April 1940 the figure given as unemployed was 367,000, a reduction of 106,000. This constitutes the smallest labor reserve reported for the month of April in a decade. Many have been taken off relief rolls through war's activities and the enrolment of men for military service.

As in the last war, so in this, prices gradually increase. Between May 1939 and May 1940 the general level of wholesale prices advanced 11.4 per cent and all of this increase has taken place since the outbreak of hostilities in September last. The cost of living, based on the retail prices of foods, fuel, clothing and rent has not risen nearly as rapidly as have wholesale prices. Between May 1939 and May 1940 the increase is only 3.5 per cent and since August 3.6 per cent. Food prices reacted quickly to the outbreak of the war but practically no change has been reported since the turn of the year.

The Federal government should carefully check any attempt on the part of wholesalers or retailers to take advantage of war conditions. Naturally there must be increases in some lines, but it is well remembered that during the last war and for some time after prices skyrocketed to such an extent they were beyond reason. Men's suits costed normally $25 to $35 went up to from $100 to $125, and other lines of clothing increased accordingly. It is against such abnormal increases in prices that manufacturers should be closely watched. The average wage-earner's income does not increase in proportion to meet such increases in the cost of living.

THE application of the Alberta government for a charter for a provincial bank has aroused plenty of interest. The meetings of the committee of the House of Commons at Ottawa have been fully reported in the daily press. The reasons so far advanced as to why the present government should have a bank of its own have not proved sufficiently convincing to convince others of the advisability of granting a charter. The operation of Treasury branches will possibly reveal a loss to the province which will have to be made up from the general taxes, for the paying of a three per cent. bonus on Alberta made goods is bound to require more than what might be the profits of operation, despite the argument advanced that the more rapid turnover of goods will enable the bonus to be paid without dipping into the profits of the branches or the provincial treasury.

THE EXPERIENCES of chartered banks in the past few years have proved clearly that many small town branches could not operate except at a loss. The government did its best to tax them out of business, and increased taxation on those that remain has compelled them to make service charges on current accounts that did not prevail previously. No one can deny that the branches of all chartered banks are run as efficiently and as economically as possible, whereas it is a well-known fact that government operated organizations or institutions too often become a haven of refuge in jobs for party supporters.

Plan Campaign For Recruitment Of Militiamen

Lieut.-Gov. J. C. Bowen To Open Program Of Speeches.

Launching an intensive province-wide drive to encourage recruiting in the non-permanent militia, His Honor, Captain J. C. Bowen, lieutenant-governor of Alberta, spoke over Station CFAC and a network of Alberta stations at 8.45 p.m., Friday evening. The title of the address was "What Are We Fighting For?"

Others who will speak in the series of radio addresses at weekly intervals, are the premier of the province, on "Employers' Co-operation"; Major General the Hon. Senator W. A. Griesbach, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., inspector general of the C.A.S.F., on "Why Should I Enlist"; and Brigadier C. E. Connolly, D.S.O., district officer commanding, on "The Advantages of Military Training."

Coupled with the radio talks will be newspaper advertising, the placing of 2,500 posters throughout the province, and movie trailers. Officers to Speak

Service clubs in Alberta cities will be addressed by army officers, asking for co-operation in granting leave to employees to attend militia camps. The officers will welcome invitations to speak for a few minutes before the principal luncheon speakers.

The panel of speakers for Calgary, from military headquarters, includes Major L. Wyatt, G.S.O. 3; Captain C. L. Smith, G.S.O. 3; Capt. H. G. Nolan, M.C., assistant judge advocate general; Major H. P. Rocks, deputy assistant adjutant and quartermaster general.

These officers will speak at any luncheon on request. Other speakers will be provided in Lethbridge, Red Deer, Drumheller and Edmonton.

THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

Some business firms complain that the weekly paper doesn't cover the territory they serve to be a satisfactory advertising medium. Recently the extension department of the University of Alberta made a survey, through their Youth Training Schools, of the facts in that province. Questionnaires by the hundreds revealed that in their respective households the weekly newspaper held a strong lead over every other publication. The following figures tell the story:

76.2 per cent get the local weekly newspaper.
34.5 per cent get a daily newspaper.
21 per cent get a farm paper.
27 per cent get other periodicals.
It will be noticed the weekly is read in more than double as many homes as any other paper. When it is considered that in most sections of Canada a large number of homes can scarcely read English papers; that many that can prefer to read their neighbors paper rather than subscribe for one themselves, and that some expect so much from their local that nothing written by mortals can satisfy them, and besides, the changing nature of the dwellers on the plains creating an endless necessity to keep in touch with individual homes, the wonder is that on their merits alone they are preferred and paid for by such an overwhelming majority in every part of the Dominion. —"Kerobert Citizen."

To travel hopefully is a better thing than to arrive; and the true success is labor. —Stevens.

WEEKLY EDITORS VISIT CANADIAN ROCKIES

Weekly editors from all parts of Canada took a few days holiday following their recent annual convention at Calgary and paid a visit to the Canadian Rockies, where they motored over the newly opened Columbia Icefield Highway. English Children Find Haven in Canada

AMONG the first contingent of English children to arrive in Canada as war guests was a group of 25 brought to a place of safety by Mr. Wallace R. Campbell, president of the Canadian Ford organization. The children were welcomed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell in Windsor, Ontario, where they were cared for until placed in their new homes. Some of the children posed for a "family group" with their host and hostess, left to right, Tony Hampson and Peter Daniels, in back row; Mrs. Campbell, Lorna Thacker, Doreen Fowler, Peter Brister, Mr. Campbell and four-year old Peter Fowler seated on a toy fire truck. Another 100 children will reach the Campbell's home later on under an arrangement made between Mr. Campbell and Lord Perry, head of the Ford company in England. Many of these will be war guests of families in the Ford organization in Windsor. These children are not a part of the movement of children under the Government plan.

Camera Hunting in Jasper Park

THE 4,200 square miles of Jasper National Park in the heart of Canada's Rockies comprise the greatest wild life sanctuary in North America, containing thousands of big game animals, including Rocky Mountain sheep and goats, mule and white-tailed deer, caribou, moose and elk, and black, brown and grizzly bear.

Deer and elk are particularly tame and are daily visitors to Jasper Park Lodge, the luxurious Canadian National Railways' Rocky Mountain resort. Elk are also observed almost daily in the vicinity of the Jasper Park Lodge golf course while friendly black bears and their playful cubs are frequent visitors around the Lodge. Smaller animals including beaver, lynx and marten are also numerous, as well as the hoary marmot or "whistler" of the mountain.

Jasper Park is a real paradise for camera hunters, its friendly boundaries providing a haven for the above mentioned four-footed visitors in addition to perky little rock rabbits—the only animal in the world to cure its own hay-sily coyotes, fisher and otter.

For those who are disposed, there are camera trophies without number to be had in Jasper National Park, in fact, even on the Jasper Park Lodge lawns.

Game animals may daily be seen from the trails and motor roads in this vast game sanctuary and animals pictured here, reading from left, are mountain goat, caribou, mule deer, beaver and mountain sheep. At the bottom are a few of the black bear residents of Jasper Park snapped while "at lunch".

The natural overflow of wild life into the unprotected areas beyond Jasper National Park, makes Jasper one of the most popular jumping off points for big game hunters going to nearby Mount Robson Park and other Alberta and British Columbia big game hunting districts.

Penalty for Non-Registration—Failure to register will make any male or female, married or single, over the age of 16 years, liable to a fine not exceeding Two hundred dollars, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding Three months, or to both such fine and imprisonment, and moreover to a further penalty not exceeding Ten dollars for each day, after the day upon which he should have registered, during which he shall continue to be unregistered.

Your Registration Certificate

To every person answering the questionnaire fully and satisfactorily a certificate of registration will be issued by the local deputy registrar. This is a small card which must be carried on the person at all times.

Blairmore vs. Michel For Ringland Cup

Will Play in Best Three.
Out-of-Five Games Series;

With Coleman, due to their participation in the provincial intermediate playdowns, forfeiting their right to continue further in this year's league play and Fernie unable to complete their schedule of games due to financial reasons, a meeting of the Crow's Nest Pass Baseball League held at Blairmore, on Monday evening decided that Natal-Michel and Blairmore would be the contending teams for the Ringland Cup, emblematic of the Crow baseball championship.

A best of five series will be played between Natal-Michel and Blairmore with the first two games billed for Michel next Sunday, Aug. 4th. It is probable the third and fourth games will be played at Blairmore on the following Sunday with the fifth, if necessary also being played at Blairmore.

It was felt that it would be in the best interests of the game to dispense with the remaining games of the schedule as with the play-off teams decided there would be nothing at stake and more or less mediocre ball would result.

THANKS EXPRESSED TO COLEMAN MERCHANTS

Roy P. Thompson, executive officer of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, in a letter to The Journal, asked to express his thanks to the Coleman merchants through the columns of The Journal.

Accompanied by W. L. Rippon and Frank Abousaffy, $56.50 was raised in less than two hours. He states "such a generous and ready response is very encouraging to those of us connected with Institute welfare work."

BUILDING A SUMMER COTTAGE

Thirty years ago Mr. William Griffiths, uncle of Alwyn Haysom, built a summer cottage at Crow's Nest Lake. In 1928 he left here to live near Vancouver. The cottage remained untenanted except for an occasional visitor or boys using it when rambling around the lake. A process of renovation has set in. Alwyn and Robert Pattinson decided to demolish the old cottage and erect a new one, using part of the lumber from the old. Just when the housewarming is to take place has not been decided. It depends on the progress of the work of reconstruction.

Four Ladies Enter Race For Carnival Queen Honor

Rivalry Among Candidates
Gains; Many New Prizes
To Be Featured.

Four candidates have now entered the race for the honor of being crowned queen of the Elks carnival, August 17 and 18. They are Margaret Mitchell, Helen Seaman, Louise Joseph and Lillian Parry, all Coleman girls. A large number of tickets have been issued by secretary Nicky Nicholas and he reports a good response from the public.

According to the committee prizes at the various booths will be of the highest value and that patrons will have every encouragement to try for the handsome prizes.

Due to sickness the carnival committee has lost the services of their energetic chairman, Frank Barrington, who is a patient at Cranbrook hospital. He is expected back soon and the committee will go into higher gear in an effort to raise as much as possible for their war work.

LOW GRADE WHEAT LAND MAY BE ABANDONED

Regina: Abandonment of 10,000,000 acres of low grade wheat land in western Canada was seen as a possible result of Hitler's drive in Europe by Hon. J. T. Taggart, Saskatchewan's Minister of Agriculture. Domination of Europe by the Nazis and consequent loss of European markets might have this result said the Minister. This land would probably be devoted to sheep ranching because, "wool and mutton are the only important live stock products of which there is a deficiency at the present time in Canada."

Would Ameliorate Hay Fever

The Raymond Recorder says: It is suggested that one way to combat hay fever is to clean up all vacant lots, clatter piles, etc., and plant them to grass and shrubs. The neglected corners are the delight of the rag weed, which is the worst general offender in causing hay fever from which so many suffer.

HOME IMPROVEMENT LOANS
SHOW WIDE VARIATION IN USE OF MONEY

Under the Home Improvement Loans plan an analysis of the June applications discloses a wide variation in the type of improvements being undertaken. Loans range from $36 for insulation, $100 to redecorate, $250 for a new kitchen and $400 for a sunroom and additions, to $600 for a new heating system and painting, and $1750 to convert a single family house to a duplex. In the case of rural properties, improvements to the other farm buildings as well as to the house may be financed. Loans to owners living in rural communities ranged from $50 to paint the house, $80 for a new well, $150 for replastering to the barn, and $300 to install electricity, to $700 for plumbing and a complete water system, and $1,000 for additions and improvements to the house.

The total loaned in Alberta since the plan was started in November 1936, is $3,580,469.

Under the National Housing Act, no loans have been made in Alberta, though a total of $58,514,010 has been loaned in all other provinces. Ontario borrowers having been loaned over $30,000,000.

The reason loans have not been made in Alberta, though many would take advantage of the plan, is because of legislation passed by the present provincial government, which has the effect of destroying confidence on the part of those who otherwise might loan money for home building purposes.

They carried their find back to the superintendent's office and before he was thawed it out. When the letter was become a lump and steaming thing Jim stripped the flap of the envelope and carefully withdrew its contents.

Dear Mr. Harlow:

I am afraid I must disappoint you. I am in such a position, being a convict licence, that I cannot afford to take the slightest risk. I will tell you frankly that what I have in my mind is that this may be a frame-up organized by my friends the police, and I think that it would be to say the least, foolish on my part to go any further until I have your requirements met. I have written proof that you have approached me.

Yours sincerely,

ARTHUR INGLE.

The two men looked at one another.

"That beats the hand," said Elk. "What do you make of it, Carlton?"

Jim stood with his back to the fire, the letter in his hand, his brow wrinkled in a frown.

"I don't know," said he. "I don't know," Harlow asked him to meet him; I knew that already, Ingle promised to go, changed his mind and wrote this letter, which has obviously never been opened by Harlow, and as obviously could not have been delivered to him before the interview, because, as I know—and I had a cold in the head to prove it—these two fellows met opposite the Horse Guards Parade and went joy-riding around the park for the greater part of an hour. Supposing Harlow is concerned with the slaying of this wretched woman—and why he should kill her heaven knows!—he would carry about this unopened letter and leave it for the first flat-footed policeman to find."

He sat down in a chair and held his head in his hands, and presently:

"I've got it!" he said, his eyes blazing with excitement. "At least, if I haven't got the whole story, I know at least one thing—poor Mrs. Gibbins was very much in love with James Smith the plate-layer!"

Elk stared at him.

"You're talking foolish," he said.

CHAPTER XII.

Allen Rivers had made one attempt to see her relative. She called up her uncle on the telephone and asked if she might call.

"Why?" was the uncompromising question.

Only a very pressing cause would have induced the girl to make the attempt—a fact which she conveyed to Ingle in the next sentence.

"I've had a big bill sent to me for the redecoration of your flat. You remember that you wished this done."

Mr. Ingle. The decorators hold me responsible—"

"Send the bill to me; I'll settle it," he interrupted.

"I'm not sure that all the items are exact," she began.

"It doesn't matter," he broke in again. "Send me the bill; I'll settle it. Good morning."

She hung up with a little smile, relieved of the necessity for another interview.

There were times when Allen Rivers was extremely grateful that no spot of Mr. Ingle's blood ran in her veins. He had married her mother's first cousin, and the avuncular relationship was largely a complimentary one. She felt the need of emphasizing this fact upon Jim Carlton when he called that night—a very welcome visit, though he made it clear to her that the pleasure of seeing her again was not his sole object.

He had come to make inquiries which were a little inconsequent, she thought, about Mrs. Gibbins. He seemed particularly anxious to know something about her nature, her qualities as a worker, and her willingness to undertake tasks which as a rule outside the duties of a charwoman. She answered every question carefully and exactly, and when her examination had been completed:

"I won't ask you why you want to know all this," she said, "because I am sure that you must have a very good reason for asking. But I thought the case was finished."

He shook his head.

"No murder is finished until the assassin is caught and hanged," he said simply, and she shivered.

"It was murder?"

"I think so—Elk doesn't. Even the doctors at the inquest disagreed. There is just a remote possibility that it may have been an accident. And then blandly, "How is your attentive fellow boarder?"

"Oh, Mr. Brown?" she said with a smile. "I don't know what has happened, but since I spoke to you I've hardly seen him. Yes, he is still staying at the home."

His visit was disappointingly short, though in reality she should not have been disappointed, because she had brought home a lot of work from the office—Mr. Stebbings was preparing his annual audit and she thought to keep her occupied till midnight. Yet she experienced a little twinge of unhappiness when Jim Carlton took an abrupt adieu. Though in no mood for work, she sat at her table until 1 o'clock, then, putting down her pen, opened the window and looked out, inhaling the cold night air before her. The sky was clear and frosty; there was not a suspicion of the fog which had been predicted by the evening papers; and Coran street was singularly peaceful and soothing. From time to time there came a rattling of wheels as cars and taxis passed along Theobalds road, but this was the only jar in the harmony of silence. It was one of London's quiet nights. She looked up and down the street—the deserted pavement was very inviting. She was stiff and cramped from sitting too long in one position, and a quarter of an hour's walk was not only desirable but necessary she decided. Putting on her coat and hat, she opened the door of her room and crept silently down the stairs, not wishing to disturb the other inmates of the house.

At the foot of the first flight of stairs she had a surprise. The door of the attentive boarder was wide open, and when she came abreast of it she saw him sitting in an armchair, a pipe gripped between his teeth, his hands clasped unromantically across his front, and he was nodding sleepily. But she made sufficient noise to rouse him and suddenly he sat up.

"Hullo!" he croaked, in the manner of one awaking from slumber. "Are you going out?"

The impertinence of the man took her breath away.

"I thought of going for a stroll, too," he said, rising laboriously. "I'm not getting enough exercise."

"I'm going to post a letter, that is all," she said, and had the humiliation of making a pretense to drop an imaginary letter into the pillar box under his watchful eye.

She brushed past him as he stood in the doorway, blowing great clouds of smoke from his pipe, and almost ran up the stairs, angry with herself that she should allow so insignificant a pipkin to irritate her.

She did not see the man at breakfast, but as she walked up the steps to the office, she happened to glance around and, to her annoyance, saw him lounging on the corner of the square, apparently interested in nothing but the architecture of the fine old Queen Anne mansion which formed the corner block.

This day was to prove for Allen Rivers something of an emotional strain. She was clearing up her desk preparatory to leaving the office when Mr. Stebbings' bell rang. She went in with her notebook and pencil.

"No, no, no letter; I just have a curious request," said Mr. Stebbings, looking past her. "A very curious and yet a very natural request. An old client of mine—a secretary—has a sore throat or something. He wanted to know if you'd go round after dinner and take a letter."

"Why, certainly, Mr. Stebbings," she said, surprised that he should be so apologetic.

"He is not a client of mine now, as I think I've told you before," the stout Mr. Stebbings went on, addressing the chandler. "And I don't know that I should wish for him to be a client either. Only—"

"Mr. Harlow?" she gasped, and he brought his gaze down to her level.

"Yes, Mr. Harlow, 104 Park Lane. Do you mind?"

She shook her head.

"No," she said. She had a struggle before she could agree. "Why, of course I'll go. At what hour?"

"He suggested 9. I said that was rather late, but he told me that he had a dinner engagement. He was most anxious," said Mr. Stebbings, his eyes returning to the Adam ceiling, "that this matter should be kept as quiet as possible."

"What matter," she asked wonderingly.

"I don't know"—Mr. Stebbings could be exasperatingly vague—"I rather fancy it may have been the contents of the letter, or, on the other hand, it may have been that he did not wish anybody to know that he had a letter of such importance as would justify the calling in of a special stenographer to deal with it. Naturally I told him he might rely on your discretion."

Thank you, that is all."

She went back to her little room with the disquieting thought that she was committed to spend an hour alone with a man who on his last appearance had filled her with terror. She wondered whether she ought to tell Jim Carlton, and then she saw the absurdity of telling him of every petty circumstance of her life, every coming and going. She knew he did not like Harlow; that he even suspected that splendid man to be responsible for the attack which had been made upon him in Long Acre; and she was the last to feed his prejudices. There were times when she allowed herself the disloyalty of thinking that Jim leaned a little toward sensationalism.

So she sent him no message, and at 9 o'clock was ringing at the door of Mr. Harlow's house.

She had not seen him since he came to the flat. Once he had passed her in his coupe, but only Jim had recognized him.

At Allen was curious to discover whether she would recover that impression of power he had conveyed on the night of his call; whether the same little thrill of fear would set her pulses beating faster—or whether the second view he would shrink to the proportions of some one who was just removed from the commonplace.

Typical Of The British

London Paper Wanted Restrictive Or Amusing Air Raid Stories

That British humor survives the darkest crisis to brighten the day, is clinched by the following notice appearing on the front page of a copy of the "Evening News" published in Glasgow, Scotland, and dated June 25:

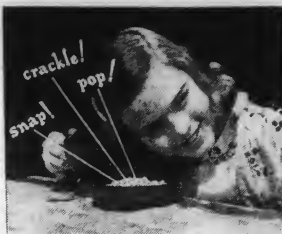

"The Evening News invites its readers to submit stories of last night's air raid. The stories should be instructive or amusing."

A combination gas mask and telephone has been invented for firemen working inside burning buildings.

CANADIANS FROM THE PRAIRIES TRAIN TO MEET THE ENEMY

The Cameramen from Winnipeg (top) proceed to make themselves as indistinguishable as possible in their outpost position at Shilo where they are training. The boys of the Fort Garry Horse, Winnipeg (bottom) practice with an anti-tank rifle in readiness for the day when they will have Nazi tanks at the business end of their gun sights.

Here's a breakfast that ASKS YOU TO EAT IT!

NO COAXING NEEDED! Once upon a time, Clara May used to sowl at her breakfast. But that was before she heard the pop-crackle-snap of Rice Krispies. Now she delightfully digs into a big bowlful of these golden rice bubbles every morning!

Every day thousands tune-in the "crispness chorus" . . .

As the cream pours on, Rice Krispies crackle and pop every morning in homes from Halifax to Vancouver. They're favourites with children . . . with their mothers . . . and with barrel-chested men, too! Tests have proved they stay crisp in milk or cream for hours! "Rice Krispies" is a registered trade-mark of the Kellogg Company of Canada, Limited, for its delicious brand of oven-popped rice. Start brightening your breakfasts with Rice Krispies tomorrow! Made only by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Farmers Make Contribution

Calls For Battle For New Agricultural Policy For Canada

"By producing below the cost of production for the first nine months of the war, farmers have already made the greatest contribution to this war of an industrial class or group in the country," Herbert H. Hannam, Toronto, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, declared at Hamilton.

He called upon farmers to "battle for a new national policy for agriculture in this Dominion" in the face of "disappearing markets and depressing surpluses."

Mr. Hannam spoke to almost 100 county farm leaders, co-operative growers' officials at the summer meeting of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, at Hamilton.

He revealed some of the farmers' most pressing problems.

"We have a surplus of something over 20,000,000 pounds of bacon, which surplus has depressed our hog prices during the past few months. And we have the prospect of a still greater surplus by the first of October."

"Our grain elevators are nearly full of wheat. If we take off an average crop this fall there is space in the elevators for only about one-third of it. Ways and means must be found of handling these surpluses and of holding up farm prices and stabilizing them at a figure which will be remunerative to our farm producers."

"Not to do it," Mr. Hannam declared, "is to invite consequences which will be serious to the whole economic and social life of this country."

Their Favorite Hymn

Sheriff Joseph W. Harding, discussing the religious services held at the county jail in Hartford, Conn., revealed the inmates' favorite hymn was—"Open Wide the Gates." "They sing it with robust enthusiasm," he said.

If a person cannot afford to procure fire insurance against accident, surely he cannot afford to own a car.

India's Treasure Houses

Wealthy People Invest Spare Money In Jewels And Ornaments

Lady Linlithgow's appeal to the women of India for gold and silver ornaments on behalf of wartime auxiliary activities may have tremendous results. Even now Indians as a body have little faith in banks as we understand them. The banker to them is a lender of money, not its trustee or custodian; so they still adopt the historic method of investing spare wealth in specie and particularly in ornaments for their women folk.

Each rajah or nawab of importance has a treasure house as part of his inheritance, and although, as an educated man of affairs he may have great investments in securities, the treasure house with its contents remains intact. What wealth is stored in India in these various forms no man knows. But when gold went up in price more than £500,000,000 worth appeared, as it were from nowhere, to be melted down as bullion.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

OBEDIENCE

The reward is in keeping the commandments, not for keeping them—Lydia Maria Child.

Perfect conformity to the will of God is the noblest and complete liberty.—D'Aubigne.

Obedience is the offspring of Love and Love is the Principle of unity, the basis of all right thinking and acting; it fulfils the law.—Mary Baker Eddy.

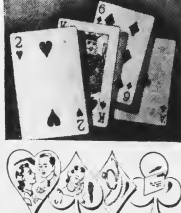

No man can always do just as he chooses until he always chooses to do God's will; and that is heaven. There is no liberty in wrongdoing.—Joseph Cook.

All the good of which humanity is capable is comprised in obedience.—John Stuart Mill.

We need only obey. There is guidance for each of us, and by lowly listening we shall hear the right word.—Emerson.

HOME SERVICE

TELL ROMANTIC FORTUNES TO DELIGHT YOUR CROWD

Read Secrets In The Cards

No one will ever say YOU give lucky parties if you can cause your guests with fortune-telling. Everyone adores card fortunes and they're simple as can be to tell, when you know the meanings of the suits.

Hearts are romantic cards and the girl who draws the two may expect a proposal. Spades, alas, are unlucky! The King may mean that an older man will interfere in the romance, causing tears.

But, turning to diamonds, you find cards of wealth, good fortune. The Six means a gift of jewelry, perhaps the unhappily delayed engagement ring. Clubs stand for business. The Ace foretells a letter with good news, perhaps the offer of a good job—and so happily ever after.

The dominoes and tea-leaves, too, reveal secrets. A five-four in dominoes spells a surprise. A group of tea-leaves shaped like a spoon means good luck. A fan of tea-leaves means a party.

Find out more about these and other exciting fortunes from our 32-page booklet! Gives the meaning of every card in the deck; explains fortune-telling with dominoes, dice and tea-leaves. Has a horoscope for each month, tips on "crystal gazing," clever fortune games for parties.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "Fun With Fortune Telling" to Home Service Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg, Man.

The following booklets are also available at 15c each:

- 187—Decorative and Useful Things to Make with Paper.
- 196—"Songs from 'Way Down South'."
- 190—"What You Should Know About Nursing."
- 172—"Effective Phrases for All Occasions."
- 168—"Etiquette: The Correct Thing To Do."
- 147—"How to Budget and Buy for Better Living."

Conditions Were Difficult

South African Town Is Proud Of Self-Supporting Hen

A self-supporting hen is the boast of Bridgewater, South Africa. When workmen started to repair a building wrecked by a cyclone a week before they found in one remaining corner a white leghorn hen in good health, except for slight lameness. She had been saved by an automobile tire that formed a lean-to. Within half an hour she laid an egg, which she promptly began to eat, solving the riddle of food and water under difficult conditions.

Commodities For Armed Forces

Some indication of the extent of the purchases necessary to maintain the armed forces is revealed in figures showing that up to June 1 some four million units of commodities, including blankets, boots, braces, housewives, shirts, socks, trousers and trunks, were ordered by the Department of Munitions and Supply and delivered to Army, Navy and Air Force stores.
